Independence Day

Next week we celebrate the Fourth of July! It is a wonderful day to petition God to guide our country to holiness and rid it from evil. Although many of us will enjoy the day off to have a celebration with good food, drinks, swimming, and fireworks, may we take time to reflect on those that sacrificed their lives for our freedom to enjoy these things. These people laid down their lives for us to be able to be free. They took an oath to do this and many of them followed the example of Jesus who also laid down his life for us. May we all be active participants in our society to work for the good of all men and women in this country. Take time with your friends and family to reflect on the gift of the freedoms we have, especially the religious freedom we can not take for granted.

Amen? Amen.

Fr. Jesse

Lord, today, bless those who have served and continue to give their lives for my freedom. With favor and bounty meet their needs and watch over their families. Help me to live my life in a way that glorifies you, Lord.

From the Desk of Fr. Ken

Today's Gospel tells of Jesus performing two miracles. The first was restoring health to the woman with the constant bleeding, and the second was bringing back the daughter of Jairus to life. Such is the power of Jesus. He truly cares for all of us, for our spiritual and physical well-being. Do we?

Fr. Ken Schopf

From the School Office

St. Mary School's long-standing Veterans Day Assembly tradition teaches students to recognize the vital role that our brave service men and women play in our world. We are grateful for these heroes and honor them as we celebrate our nation's birthday this week.

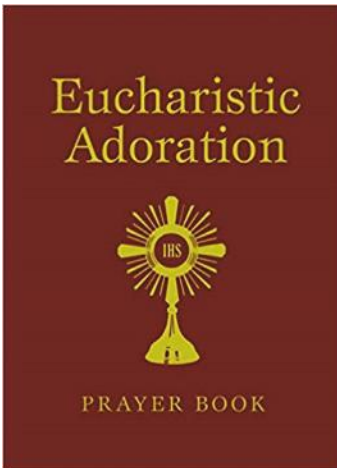

*Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD,
the people chosen as his inheritance.*

THE CATECHIST'S CORNER

Eucharistic Adoration Prayer Book compiled and edited by Mary Mark Wickenhiser, FSP

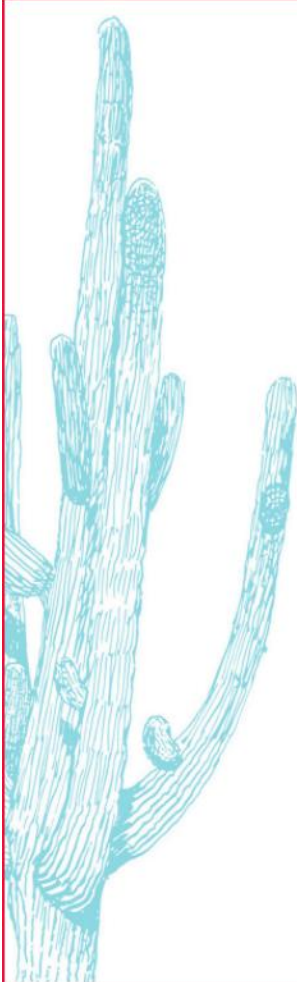

In Fr. Ryan Ruiz's beautiful reflection on Jesus as Bread of Life a few weeks ago during Cocktails with the Catechism, he reflected upon the particular importance of having an active contemplative life when practicing the Catholic faith. To slow down in the midst of a seemingly lightning speed world, to empty your mind of all the daily concerns and stresses, and to simply rest in the presence of God. How often, he noted, that each of us find ourselves tempted to rush through the Mass or at least to give into the distraction of our own thoughts as the repetitious nature of the liturgy continues. That rather than offering ourselves completely in an hour of true, mystical communion with our crucified and resurrected Lord and experiencing the profoundly spousal unity He invites us into, we adopt a mentality of "punching in" and "punching out" on Sunday mornings. This is the ongoing challenge for each one of us: to enter into every Mass with a heightened awareness of the sacrificial love Christ has for us and to respond in gratitude and adoration. So many of us, however, are challenged because though we may have been receiving the Eucharist for decades, we may have never encountered Christ in the most personal sense. This is where, I would offer, spending time in front of Him in the Blessed Sacrament is truly transformative. This is where we can begin to hear His voice speaking directly to each one of our hearts and calling us uniquely by name. This is where receiving the Eucharist at Mass ceases to become mere ritual but requisite as we live our each and every day lives. This Friday, we will host the National Eucharistic Pilgrimage and will offer Adoration twice during the day: in the morning at the Oratory and in the evening at St. Cecilia. I want to challenge you, especially if you've never been to a Holy Hour before, to go. Walk in, sit down, kneel down, and simply gaze upon our Lord in the beautiful monstrance. Have that moment of encounter. Embrace the silence and the stillness of the contemplative life that God calls us to. If you need some structure to guide your time, consider ordering a copy of this beautiful book. It contains beautiful prayers, writings of the saints, and seven different examples of how to make a meaningful Holy Hour. And then, get in the habit of going. Make it a goal to spend an hour a week in front of our Lord and see how your life transforms, how your relationship with Him transforms. As we enter this third and final year of the National Eucharistic Revival, let us join together in loving the heart "that is so little loved" as it is present to us in the greatest gift of the Eucharist. (Reviewed by Haley Metzger)

Prayer for Vocations

Almighty Father, You have created for us some definite purpose. Grant us the grace to know the path You have planned for us in this life and to respond with a generous "Yes." Make our archdiocese, parishes, homes and hearts fruitful ground for Your gift of vocations. May our young people respond to Your call with courage and zeal. Stir among our men a desire and the strength to be good and holy priests. Bless us with consecrated religious and those called to a chaste single life, permanent deacons, and faithful husbands and wives, who are a sign of Christ's love for His Church. We commend our prayer for vocations to You, Father, through the intercession of Mary our Mother, in the Holy Spirit, through Christ our Lord.

Amen.

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

First Reading

Wis 1:13-15; 2:23-24

God did not make death, nor does he rejoice in the destruction of the living. For he fashioned all things that they might have being; and the creatures of the world are wholesome, and there is not a destructive drug among them nor any domain of the netherworld on earth, for justice is undying. For God formed man to be imperishable; the image of his own nature he made him. But by the envy of the devil, death entered the world, and they who belong to his company experience it.

The Word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Psalm Response

Ps 30:2, 4, 5-6, 11, 12, 13

1. I will extol you, LORD, for you have raised me up, and have not let my enemies rejoice over me. O LORD, you have lifted up my soul from the grave, restored me to life from those who sink into the pit.

2. Sing psalms to the LORD, you his faithful ones; give thanks to his holy name. His anger lasts but a moment; his favor all through life. At night come tears, but dawn brings joy.

3. Hear, O LORD, and have mercy on me; be my helper, O LORD. You have changed my mourning into dancing. O LORD my God, I will thank you forever.

Second Reading

2 Cor 8:7, 9, 13-15

Brothers and sisters: As you excel in every respect, in faith, discourse, knowledge, all earnestness, and in the love we have for you, may you excel in this gracious act also.

For you know the gracious act of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, for your sake he became poor, so that by his poverty you might become rich. Not that others should have relief while you are burdened, but that as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their needs, so that their abundance may also supply your needs, that there may be equality. As it is written: Whoever had much did not have more, and whoever had little did not have less.

The Word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Gospel

Mk 5:21-24, 35b-43

When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around him, and he stayed close to the sea. One of the synagogue officials, named Jairus, came forward. Seeing him he fell at his feet and pleaded earnestly with him, saying, "My daughter is at the point of death. Please, come lay your hands on her that she may get well and live." He went off with him, and a large crowd followed him and pressed upon him.

While he was still speaking, people from the synagogue official's house arrived and said, "Your daughter has died; why trouble the teacher any longer?" Disregarding the message that was reported, Jesus said to the synagogue official, "Do not be afraid; just have faith." He did not allow anyone to accompany him inside except Peter, James, and John, the brother of James. When they arrived at the house of the synagogue official, he caught sight of a commotion, people weeping and wailing loudly. So he went in and said to them, "Why this commotion and weeping? The child is not dead but asleep." And they ridiculed him. Then he put them all out. He took along the child's father and mother and those who were with him and entered the room where the child was. He took the child by the hand and said to her, "Talitha koum," which means, "Little girl, I say to you, arise!" The girl, a child of twelve, arose immediately and walked around. At that they were utterly astounded. He gave strict orders that no one should know this and said that she should be given something to eat.

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to You, Lord Jesus Christ.

The Nicene Creed

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God,
born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light,
true God from true God,
begotten, not made,
consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.

For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

All make a profound bow:
and by the Holy Spirit
was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

For our sake he was crucified
under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven
and is seated at the right hand
of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge
the living and the dead
and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father
and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son
is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins
and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come.
Amen.
